
Home & Foreign News

Woodpower '80. Woodpower '80, an international conference on Forestry and Wood Utilization, will be held in Washington, D.C., June 16-19, 1980. The conference is organized into a series of concurrent forums, paper sessions, and government and industry exhibitions. The principal themes will include:

- Forestry and It's Impact on Other Economic Sectors.
- National Park Planning in Developing Countries.
- Forestry Management and Forestry Science.
- Biofuels and Related Processes of Biomass Conversion.
- New Technologies for Forestry Assessment, and
- New Uses of Wood and Wood Products.

For more information about participation and submission of conference papers write to:

Dr. James J. Talbot

Chairman, Technical Program Committee

WOODPOWER '80

1129 20th Street, N.W.—Suite 511

Washington, D.C. 20036

(U.S.A.)